The Bainbridge Marina is here, well at least pieces of it have arrived and installation has begun. 10 of the 25 trucks bringing in our new Marina have rolled into Bainbridge.

Overseeing the $1 million project coming to fruition are Vickie Shaffer, CEO of NAMI Docks, Robert Harty, Vice President of NAMI Docks, Chris Hobby, City Manager, and Stuart Atkinson of York and Associates, our City Engineers.

Ms Shaffer said 4 more trucks are due this week and the remainder will roll in as they are needed. In all, there are 150 pieces that will create the floating docks for our Marina. NAMI manufactured them in Missouri, shipped them 15 hours by truck and they are now here to put it all together.

Chris Hobby explained the docks will be secured to concrete anchors to be poured on the shore banks. This will allow the floating docks to rise and fall with the level of the water. Mr Hobby expects to be completed in 30-40 days.
